

Tenuta Sant' Anna

PINOT GRIGIO DOC

DESCRIPTION

A grape variety of French origin, here in Italy this has become the most famous vine all over the world: in the north-east territories (the regions of Veneto, Friuli and Trentino Alto Adige) it has found its ideal habitat and on completion of the white wine-making process, proposes unpretentious, full-bodied wines that easily accompany a wide range of dishes.

FEATURES

Grapes: Pinot Grigio 100%
Origin: Loncon di Annone Veneto, owned vineyards
Altitude: 20 – 30 m a.s.l.
Terrain Type: Medium blend, with clay-like tendency
Growing Method: Guyot e Sylvoz
Plant density: 4.500 plants per hectare
Yeld of grapes: 8.0 tons per hectare
Alcohol: 12.50%

VINIFICATION

Once collocated in the presses the grapes are very gently pressed. The process for making white wine is started, separating immediately the grape-skins from the must, in steel tanks at controlled temperatures. Following this the wine is left “on the yeasts” for about three months in steel vats, to then be bottled and shelved for another two months.

WINE

Straw-yellow color with golden tints. The bouquet is generous and pronounced with delicate aromas of pear. On the palate the flavor is resolute and harmonious, full-bodied and with an appreciable level of sapidity.

MATCHES

Pleasant to serve as an aperitif, it is a good partner for first courses based on fish and second courses of white meat. Excellent with pasta and clam sauce, seafood risottos, chicken suprême, rabbit stew with olives.
Grapes : Pinot Grigio (100.00%)

VENETO

Veneto is a wine region in north-eastern Italy. The region is protected from the harsh northern European climate by the Alps, the foothills of which form the Veneto's northern extremes. These cooler climes are well-suited to white varieties like Garganega (the main grape for Soave wines) while the warmer Adriatic coastal plains and river valleys are where the renowned Valpolicella, Amarone and Bardolino DOC reds are produced. One of Italy's leading wine schools, Conegliano, is based here and the nation's most important wine fair, Vinitaly, takes place each spring in Verona.
