Salami Italiani alla Cacciatora DOP- Levonetto

Its name derives from its widespread used by Lombard hunters who used to take these handy little salamis with them as refreshment during their hunts. It is the second most consumed product in Italy after Salami Milano.

The mix is characterised by a delicate, ruby-red colour with small grains of uniformly distributed fat. The mild and delicate flavour comes from the perfect balance of wine and spices. It is available in two versions: large grain and fine grain.
