Description: These excellent lemons are gorgeously juicy and have very little pips to get in the way. They are medium-large, with a thick, rough skin and intense aroma.

The Sicilian island is a fertile coastal plain lies between the mountains and the sea perfect for lemon-growing. Warm sun, humid sea air, rich limestone and alluvial soils, subterranean rivers. All keeping the trees and fruit well-fed and watered. All essential ingredients in our consistently exceptional lemons is full of:

1- Juice: At least 34% juice, it's a very squeezable lemon
2- Zest: Aromatic, fine-grained pell with abundant oil-producing glands give high quality essential oils
3- Flavour: With hingh levels of Vitamin C and citric acid

Sicilian Lemons cultivation techniques have been handed down from generation to generation of farmers, for over a thousand years, while rulers of this ancient land have come and gone.

Serving suggestion: They are superb for any cooking and for other health preparation that requires using the skin as they are unwaxed and not present any chemical residual.
